1. INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

For the past two decades the KwaZulu-Natal Financial Literacy Association (KZNFLA) has hosted the annual Money Talk Speech Competition which is open to Grade 11 learners across KwaZulu-Natal (KZN). The focus of the competition was to encourage learners to become more financially literate through research and the presentation of a five-minute speech on various financial literacy topics. Previous topics included; consumer protection, financial planning, rights and responsibilities, starting a business (entrepreneurship) and engaging with Financial Services Providers (FSP's).

Based on the successes of the KZN model, the Financial Sector Conduct Authority (FSCA) or the Financial Services Board (FSB), as it was known up to 31 March 2019, received funding from the Financial Services Consumer Education Foundation (FSCEF) to pilot the same model in Gauteng. The FSB partnered with the Gauteng Department of Education and the Financial Planning Institute (FPI) and in 2016, the inaugural Gauteng School's Financial Literacy Speech Competition was successfully implemented.

In 2017, the FSB approached the FSCEF for additional funding to expand the project and include three additional provinces, namely; Eastern Cape, KwaZulu - Natal and Mpumalanga. Due to austerity measures, the Mpumalanga Department of Education withdrew from the project and the competition was implemented in the remaining three provinces. The format of the competition in 2017 included an inter-provincial final where the top two learners from each province competed for the title of "Winner of FSB my life my money inter-provincial financial literacy speech competition 2017".

Based on the success of the competition in 2016, 2017 and 2019, funding was sourced from the FSCEF to expand the speech competition to all nine provinces. Thus, in addition to the Eastern Cape, KwaZulu-Natal, Gauteng the North West, Western Cape and Mpumalanga, Free State, Northern Cape and Limpopo departments of education were approached to participate in the 2019 speech competition.

The format of the competition will be run in the same way as in 2019 with the initial eliminations taking place at school level and ultimately culminating in the interprovincial where the top learners from each province will compete for the title of the "Winner of the FSCA National Financial Literacy Speech Competition 2019".

2. PROJECT OVERVIEW

The Interprovincial Financial Literacy Speech Competition for 2019 will be overseen by the FSCA. The project co-ordination and events management will be outsourced to a service provider with a national footprint. It will be the responsibility of the relevant Provincial Education Departments (PED) to communicate competition details to participating schools.

The speech competition project will comprise of:

- 2.1 A launch to be held in Gauteng.
- 2.2 Finals per participating school (school round).
- 2.3 District finals to be held in each of the four provinces (district round).
- 2.4 A provincial final for each of the provincial finals (provincial round).
- 2.5 An interprovincial final to be held in Gauteng (interprovincial round).

The launch will be co-ordinated by the FSCA. The school round of the competition will be co-ordinated by the relevant PED's. At each provincial final, up to 15 finalists can be accommodated. It will be left to the discretion of the PED's to determine the numbers of participants from each province as some provinces have varying numbers of districts. The top learners of each province will be invited to participate at the interprovincial final in Gauteng.

The FSCA will appoint an external monitoring and evaluation company to monitor and evaluate the competition against success indicators, as well as determining the impact of the competition.

3. PROJECT OBJECTIVES

The objective of the project is to:

- 3.1 Promote financial literacy in schools on topics such as budgeting, savings and investments and consumer rights.
- 3.2 Create awareness on the importance of financial advice.
- 3.3 Promote careers in the financial services industry for example, a Financial Services Provider (FSP).
- 3.4 Encourage entrepreneurship.
- 3.5 Introduce insurance as an investment choice for all individuals and use the youth to discuss financial concepts with their parents.
- 3.6 Integrate theory and practice as an important principle in the Curriculum and Assessment Policy Statement (CAPS)

4. ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

- 4.1 Grade 11 learners following Business, Commerce and Management stream subjects; Business Studies, Economics and Accounting (provinces may have additional criteria).
- 4.2 Learners must present their speech in English.

- 4.3 Participants must be from quintiles 1, 2 and 3.
- 4.4 All participants must have an assigned teacher to coach the learner throughout the competition.
- 4.5 Participation is subject to consent from both the Head of the school as well as the learners' parents or legal guardian.
- 4.6 Learners who participate will be required to thoroughly research and present a five-minute speech on one of the three financial literacy topics, as described in paragraph on section ten (10) below. Learners will present the same researched speech at each competition round and will be assessed, according to the rubric attached, during each round of the competition.

10 TOPICS and Rubric

The topics and rubric for 2019 are as follows:

TOPIC 1: Saving makes cents!

DESCRIPTION:

Mpho, a grade 11 learner constantly hears that she must save. However, no one is telling her how to go about this and where she will get the money from to save. She believes that this can only happen when she starts working one day and that day is far off! Convince Mpho as to why it is important to develop good money management habits from an early age. Advise her also on spending without a plan. Explain to her the advantages of saving and investing as well as the differences between the two. Explain also how to safeguard money and how to avoid get rich quick scams.

AIM OF THE TOPIC:

The aim of this topic is to create awareness around money management. It includes the need to have a sound financial plan and knowing where to go for financial advice on how to save and invest money; how to avoid getting into a debt trap and how to avoid get rich quick scams.

Learners are expected to conduct research into and speak on the following:

- Good financial management.
- Budgeting
- Difference between saving and investment
- Avoiding unnecessary debt
- Avoiding get rich schemes

TOPIC 2: Failing to plan means planning to fail...

DESCRIPTION:

Siyanda wants to be a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER® but he is not sure about the path he needs to follow to become one. He knows he wants to help others and he loves his commerce subjects. Explain role of financial planning in growing the economy, what is needed to be a successful planner and how having a financial plan can be beneficial to all.

AIM OF THE TOPIC:

To create awareness that financial planning is a noble and worthwhile profession that enables people to manage their finances, build wealth and ensure that they can retire comfortably without depending on the government or their families. While qualifications are important, there are soft skills that are equally important when dealing with the highly emotional topic of money.

Learners are expected to conduct research into and speak to the following:

- What is a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER® professional? What does he/she do?
- What does financial planning entail?
- What role do financial planners play in the financial well-being of society?
- Why financial planning should be chosen as a career and what it takes to become a Financial Planner?
- Besides trust and integrity what other skills should a financial planner possess?

TOPIC 3: Being an entrepreneur is the woke thing to do

DESCRIPTION

In South Africa a large number of the working age population are unemployed and of these, the youth makes up a large chunk. South Africa is amongst the top ten of the world's countries in terms of unemployment rate. Sarah is worried about this and believes that a big part of the solution is for young people to start their own businesses. Explain why starting a business can be an option for young people to escape poverty, unemployment and misery. Also explain the process to follow to make this happen and the attitude and skills needed to succeed.

AIM OF THE TOPIC:

The aim of this topic is to demonstrate an understanding of what planning it takes to start and grow a business. It includes understanding the importance of a proper business action plan in starting up and when the business is running what is needed to grow it further. This includes how personal discipline impacts the business.

Learners are expected to conduct research into and speak on the following:

- Types of small businesses that could be started.
- How to go about starting these.
- Points to be included in the business action plan.
- What is required to grow the business?
- The mechanisms that are currently in place to support young entrepreneurs.
- The Importance of financial literacy for entrepreneur.
- The financial skills an entrepreneur needs to have

The monitoring and evaluation process will include reviews by the PED's, district officials, teachers and learners in the provincial finals and interprovincial finals. This will be done at convenient times in consultation with the PED coordinators.

17 ADDENDUM A – CHIEF ADJUDICATOR’S ‘TOP TIPS’ FOR LEARNERS

Below are a few tips to learners from the judges themselves who have judged previous competitions.

- 17.1 Pick the topic you are most comfortable to speak about: When picking a topic try to choose one which you would like to know more about. This will make you enthusiastic to conduct research around the topic and to speak about the topic.
- 17.2 Research your topic thoroughly: Remember the judges are all seasoned experts in the field of financial literacy, they will know if a speech has been well researched or not. If you know your topic very well you will be comfortable in what you are saying and this will be come across to the judges.
- 17.3 Time yourself and stick to the time allocation: The timekeeper will stop you if you speak longer than the time allowed. There will be a bell to indicate when you have 30 seconds at this point you should begin your conclusion. Another bell will ring when you have 10 seconds left and a continuous bell will ring when your time is up. You will be penalised if you speak longer than the allotted time.
- 17.4 Take careful note of your tone: Be careful not to speak too quickly or to speak with no expression. Both put your audience off. Practice by saying your speech to someone else who can give you input.
- 17.5 Practice, practice, practice: Practice really does make perfect! The more you practice the more comfortable you will become with your speech.
- 17.6 Relax: Begin by addressing the audience. It buys you time and calms your nerves. Pause, smile and count to three before saying anything. ("One one-thousand, two one-thousand, three one-thousand. Pause. Begin.) Transform nervous energy into enthusiasm.
- 17.7 Make sure to keep eye contact with the audience: Think about how you lose interest if you are having a conversation and the person keeps on looking over your shoulder! A tip is to pick three people in the audience (one of the left, one in the centre of the audience and one on the right). Make sure to address each of these people as you speak- this will create the sense that you are speaking to the whole audience.
- 17.8 Use your body to convey your message: make sure you do not ‘bob’ up and down on your feet, be careful of pacing up and down the stage. If you want to emphasize point use hand gestures but make sure they do not distract from your message. When practicing your speech ask others for opinions on if your body matched the verbal message you are trying to get across.
- 17.9 Don’t apologize for any nervousness or problem: the audience probably never noticed it.
- 17.10 Enjoy yourself! Nothing impresses the judges more than a speaker who is well-prepared enjoys speaking. This is your chance to stand out from the crowd. Smile, and enjoy every moment!
