

CREATIVE WRITING

This paper is important because it revives creative writing. It develops thinking- and writing skills. It is easy to assess the strengths and weakness of a candidate when marking this paper. It is easy to identify learners with good creative writing skills and , through such writing, authors of the future can be easily identified and encouraged.

OTHER COMMENTS

This paper needs a lot of attention. It gives a clear picture of what is taking place in the class. Some teachers neglect this paper because marking compositions involves a lot of work. That is why some centres perform so poorly. At such centres the candidates are unable to understand instructions and are not taught to answer the questions that appear in this paper.

Well done to those centres who showed interest in this paper. Their good performance showed that they really made that extra effort.
