The Interactive Telematics Programme

The WCED, in association with the University of Stellenbosch's Telematic Teaching Project, has made available a series of DVDs containing lessons for selected subjects including Mathematics, Physical Sciences, Afrikaans Home Language, English First Additional Language, Accountancy, Life Sciences, Geography, History and Business Studies.

These lessons are broadcast from a studio at Stellenbosch University to learners in 131 satellite schools plus >200 livestream schools across the province using satellite technology as well as web based technology and handheld devices, creating a kind of 'cyber-classroom'.

If Telematics is offered in your school or a school close to you, make sure you attend.

For information on how to obtain copies of the Telematics DVDs, please contact
